The Forma Sheer

Fusing material experimentation and playful geometry, we were inspired by the visual language of the pioneering NP2 Collective in Turin in the early 1970s. This pattern was first adapted into a bas-relief wall in our Holland Park House project. We transformed this idea into a sheer textile in a flax colourway, woven by Yarn Collective. The abstract geometric shapes are enhanced by the changing textures of the weave, softly playing with light and shadow by day and night.
